Castro Extends Invasion Alert Until Jan. 20

Cuban Boss Hints He Seeks Accord With Kennedy Regime

HAVANA (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro has extended Cuba's waning invasion alert from Jan. 18 to Jan. 20, the day President-elect John F. Kennedy takes over his office from President Eisenhower.

Castro hinted Friday night at a labor rally that he wants a reconciliation with the United States after Eisenhower leaves the White House but that the U.S. Navy base at Guantanamo Bay might be his asking price.

Castro said Cuban coast defenses still will maintain vigilance after Kennedy is inaugurated. The full-scale alert, now in its 19th day, apparently will be called off.

There were signs fewer Cubans were being detailed to watch the sea for an invasion which Castro declared would come from the United States during Eisenhower's administration.

Some armed units were withdrawn from atop buildings and along Havana's seafloor.

President Osvaldo Dorticos told the rally, which had been advertised as a victory celebration over an invasion that never came: "The battle against the invader has been won."

Castro also had been expected to claim his military might had frightened off the invaders, but he did not.

About 30,000 persons, a small crowd considering a week-long government effort to whip up enthusiasm, turned out to hear Castro.

He seemed to expect the two-year battle with the United States would be laid aside the instant Kennedy takes office. But he indicated he also wants changes in policies in Washington.

"We have no points of friction with the incoming government," Castro declared, "since all industries, all mines and all banks are ours."

"The only problem is Guantanamo, and we are in no hurry about that base. It's their headache because after breaking relations (with Cuba) the position of the United States before world opinion is untenable as regards the base."

He added that the Kennedy administration "must rectify" the U.S. position regarding Cuba's revolutionary regime in the best interests of the United States, Cuba and the world.

"From the very first moment," he said, the Kennedy administration will "have to determine what to do in respect to war criminals, foreign mercenaries and military instructors."

This apparently referred to reports that the United States has financed a big air base in Guatemala and provided instructors for troops alleged to be training to attack Cuba.

Health Boards Record 606 Births in '60

Pickaway County population was increased by 606 new births during 1960 according to city and county health department records.

A total of 264 deaths were also recorded in Pickaway County during the year.

Male population increased locally more than female population with 320 boys and 286 girls.

Of the grand total, 603 of the births were within the city and 123 of the deaths occurred in Circleville according to a report from Mrs. Harriet Wallace, registrar.

PICKAWAY County Health Department reported 15 birth certificates recorded during 1960. However, according to Mildred Wolfe, registrar, only three of the total were actual births. The remainder were delayed certificates never before recorded.

County department also reported a total of 141 deaths in the past year.

RETIRING TREASURER CUTS UP — At a New York City party given in her honor by TV star Merv Griffin, United States Treasurer Ivy Baker Priest, whose signature has appeared on all U. S. paper money for the last eight years, cuts an unusual cake. It is decorated with dollar bills and bears the inscription, "E Pluribus Unum." She will retire from her post when the new administration takes over in Washington.

U.S. Seeks Face-Saving Plan For Agreement in Laos Fuss

WASHINGTON (AP)—U. S. officials were reported today still hopeful of finding a face-saving formula to put an end to the civil war in Laos. But the problem almost certainly will go over to the incoming Kennedy administration.

The aim of Eisenhower administration officials during their last week in office is to try to lay the basis for a solution through diplomatic negotiation and avoid if possible any dangerous new military flare-up in the continuing crisis.

However, their success in this respect, officials said, will depend on what the Russians and Red Chinese do about further helping the Laotian rebels.

The United States is expected to stall off for the time being at least a Cambodian proposal for a 14-nation conference to seek a peaceful solution of the Southeast Asian conflict. A note to that effect probably will be dispatched to Cambodia in a few days.

The State Department is reported now to feel that the best possibility for making peace in Laos lies in reviving an international control commission composed of Communist Poland, neutralist India and Allied Canada.

The barrier to this kind of approach is that the United States strongly supports the pro-Western government of Premier Boun Oum at Vientiane, while the Soviet Union insists that Savanna Phouma, now in Cambodia, is the legitimate head of the Laos government, even though he fled the country several weeks ago.

Diplomats are not certain whether a way can be found to reconcile the contradictory American and Soviet positions, but some say privately that a face-saving solution may yet prove possible.

Cabinet Choices Getting Nod; Second Stringers Face Trouble

WASHINGTON (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy's Cabinet choices appear to have clear sailing ahead toward Senate confirmation. But some of his second-line appointees are in troubled waters.

The Senate, which has heard seven prospective Cabinet members explain their views, will hear from three more next week. They are J. Edward Day, picked for postmaster general, to appear Monday; Robert S. McNamara, secretary of defense, Tuesday; and Luther H. Hodges, secretary of commerce, Wednesday.

McNamara is expected to be questioned closely about defense policies, with particular attention to a Pentagon reorganization report made to Kennedy by Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo.

Republicans will want to know what Day's views are on the postal rate increases President Eisenhower recommended but Congress refused to approve. Hodges will face inquiries on his proposed policies in the business field.

All three are expected to get the same kind of advance approval indicated for seven of their colleagues who already have testified in public hearings.

There may be some fireworks, however, when the Senate gets down to consideration of second-rank appointees.

Chester Bowles, named for undersecretary of state, can expect stiff questioning from Republicans on Red China policies when he appears before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee next Thursday. Senators also will have some inquiries about pledges Bowles helped to write into the Democratic platform.

Bowles' nomination seems in no real danger. But that may not be true of the choice of Robert C. Weaver, chairman of the board of directors of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, to be housing administrator.

Construction trade leaders already are contending that if Weaver puts nondiscrimination tags on federal housing programs, their business may fall off drastically. Weaver, who has said he'll resign from the NAACP post has strong defenders among liberals of both parties.

In a day of intensive activity Friday, Senate committees indicated approval for six potential Cabinet nominees.

They included Robert F. Kennedy, attorney general; Douglas Dillon, secretary of the treasury; Arthur J. Goldberg, secretary of labor; Abraham Ribicoff, secretary of health, education and welfare; Orville L. Freeman, secretary of agriculture; and Stewart L. Udall, secretary of interior. Previously, Dean Rusk had been given tacit approval by the Foreign Relations Committee as secretary of state.

Today, two former Democratic governors were named to $20,000-a-year jobs in the Kennedy administration.

He named George Docking of Kansas to be director of the Export-Import Bank and Hershel Loveless of Iowa as a member of the Federal Renegotiation Board. Both men supported Kennedy's nomination but were defeated by Republicans in their races for re-election as governors.

DiSalle Hails New Klumpp Evidence

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Newly disclosed evidence indicates Louise Bergen was slain 12 to 15 miles from where it was first thought the crime occurred, says Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

And, he adds, the evidence tends to support the "truth serum" story of Edythe Klumpp that the victim's estranged husband, and not she, killed his wife in Cincinnati on Oct. 30, 1958.

Mrs. Klumpp, twice divorced mother of four who celebrates her 43rd birthday Sunday, was to have been executed a week ago Friday night for the Bergen murder. But Gov. DiSalle spared her life with an eleventh hour commutation of her sentence to life imprisonment.

The new evidence was disclosed at a special DiSalle press conference by Hamilton County Prosecutor C. Watson Hover.

Hover, who prosecuted Mrs. Klumpp, agreed with DiSalle that the evidence — fragments of a necklace and eyeglasses — indicated the crime was committed elsewhere than the place Mrs. Klumpp testified to at her trial.

But Hover disagreed with DiSalle on the significance of the evidence.

In fact, he said, if the evidence had been presented at Mrs. Klumpp's first-degree murder trial, it would have further established her guilt.

This, he explained, was "because she told us that the crime occurred at other than what is known to have been the actual location in an attempt to lead investigators away from the actual scene."

Hover said an Anderson Twp. ranger found the necklace and eyeglass fragments the day of the murder.

The ranger delivered the fragments to a sheriff's deputy who the next day, turned them over to the Kettering Laboratory in Cincinnati. Hover said the material was kept there until May 14, 1959, when it was turned over to his office with a bunch of miscellaneous articles.

Last Saturday, a deputy sheriff's memory was jogged by recent developments in the case and he phoned the prosecutor's office to mention the necklace and glasses.

The fragments, Hover told newsman, "unquestionably" are part of Louise Bergen's necklace, "portions of which also were found near (her) buried body."

The four mile road area, where the fragments were found, is in Cincinnati's Mt. Washington section. Hover said the find establishes the murder scene in that section, not in Caldwell park, miles away, where Mrs. Klumpp claimed at her trial the slaying took place.

The significance of the evidence, the prosecutor said, is that it "will narrow the inquiry as to who was where at what time."

The governor said the newly established scene of the fatal shooting would have made it impossible for Mrs. Klumpp to have driven the distance and slain Mrs. Bergen within the time limits now established.

Mrs. Klumpp, while under the influence of a truth serum, Sodium Amytal, two days before her scheduled execution, told DiSalle that Bergen, 32, her erstwhile lover, shot his 32-year-old wife in the Klumpp car.

Mrs. Klumpp said she was not in the car when it happened but that she later helped Bergen douse the body with gasoline and burn it at Lake Cowan in Clinton County.

At her trial she said she did the killing herself.

Bergen, who now works in Washington, D. C., testified at the trial that he was at a friend's house when the slaying occurred.

Hover said he has sent an assistant to Washington to interview Bergen. The assistant reports that Bergen is holding himself available for further questioning. But it has not been decided, the prosecutor added, whether to ask Bergen to return to Ohio.

Defense Attorney William Hopkins said in Cincinnati, "the time has elapsed for all legal actions, except an application for a pardon (by the governor)." And DiSalle has said he's thinking about that.

Lumumba Back In Jail Again

Ex-Congo Premier Freed Temporarily

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The United Nations reported Patrice Lumumba is under guard today after a brief spell of liberty during Friday's army mutiny at Thysville army camp.

The firebrand ex-premier was temporarily freed in the course of a pay-day riot—setting Leopoldville agog with anticipation that he was on his way back to power.

Some reports said President Joseph Kasavubu and Col. Joseph Mobutu were arrested in the course of the mutiny but released.

The two leaders paid a visit to the camp Friday morning but by Friday night they both were back in the capital.

Congolese officials said the situation at Thysville is now calm. News that Lumumba was still captive quelled the wave of excitement and fear that rolled across the capital Friday afternoon.

But there still is widespread belief that Lumumba will be out of his prison and back in the political arena before very long.

The round-table conference at which Congolese politicians hope to attain some form of national unity is set for Jan. 25. And belief is widespread in political circles that no unity can be reached without Lumumba in the picture.

Man Claims Kidnaped Child Is His Own

CLEVELAND (AP)—A 25-year-old Detroit man told police Friday night the 2-year-old girl he is accused of abducting is his daughter and that he "Pulled her into my car and drove away because I wanted her back with me and the other children."

John Ely, who was held for further investigation, told officers the girl's name was Nancy Ely and not Nancy Miller as reported by her mother.

"Her mother deserted us," Ely said. "I was concerned for her welfare."

Ely was stopped Friday afternoon by patrolmen on the Ohio Turnpike about 75 miles from the Indiana state line. The girl, unharmed, was in the car.

Nancy was reported kidnaped from her mother, Mrs. George Miller, 25, Friday morning as the two waited for a bus.

Mrs. Miller said her daughter by a previous marriage was taken by a man who drove up at the bus stop and asked her and the child to get in the car. When they refused the man pulled the girl into the car and drove off, she continued.

Officers said Mrs. Miller identified Ely as one of her four former husbands and the man who drove off with the girl. "He changed so much I didn't know him," police said she told them.

The child was taken to the Cuyahoga County Receiving Home until the situation is cleared up.

What Is It: Space Vehicle Or Missile?

Alaskan Radar Units Spot Object Heading Toward Pacific Ocean

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. scientists puzzled today over a mystery rocket fired from the Soviet Union in the direction of the Pacific Ocean.

The Air Force said early today it still had not determined whether it was a long-range missile or a space vehicle.

An Air Force radar station at Shemya Island, Alaska, detected the object passing in a southeasterly direction.

Three Soviet missile instrument ships were spotted earlier this week moving toward an impact area about 1,000 miles southwest of Hawaii, where the Russians have tested long-range missiles.

The presence of ships was considered an indication that the Soviet Union might be preparing for another missile test or possibly a space launching.

But latest reports from the Navy indicated the three ships were still a day's sailing away from the impact area. Also, in previous shots the Soviet Union had given international warnings so that ships might stay clear of the impact area.

There has been no such warning this time.

There was speculation among scientists that the Russians might be attempting some sort of space hoot and felt it was not necessary to give any warning to ships.

When sighted earlier this week the three Soviet instrument ships were moving southeast from the Kamchatka Peninsula to the previously used impact area.

They were a little over halfway along the route toward the impact area when observed Tuesday. The ships — the Sibir, Chukotka and Sakhalin — were deployed in a wide triangle at the time of the sighting. They were about 400 miles west of Midway Island and about 1,200 miles from Hawaii.

The 44,000-square-mile impact area in the Pacific has been used for missile firings from points in the southern part of the Soviet Union over a range of about 8,000 miles.

Ohio Machinist Admits Tax Dodge

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Curtis L. Breen, 61, of Bellevue, pleaded guilty in U.S. District Court here Friday to failing to file federal income tax returns for the five years 1954-58. The government claimed he owed $2,437 for that period. Judge Frank L. Klobb set sentencing for Jan. 27 and ordered Breen held in Lucas County Jail in lieu of $3,000 bond.

Breen, who is employed as a machinist at Sandusky, said he refused to file tax returns because he challenged the government's power to require this of an individual. He said he also felt the tax laws give some citizens preferential treatment.

Officers said Mrs. Miller identified Ely as one of her four former husbands and the man who drove off with the girl. "He changed so much I didn't know him," police said she told them.

The child was taken to the Cuyahoga County Receiving Home until the situation is cleared up.

Ohio Dems To Miss Gala Ball; Republicans Blamed in Part

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some Ohio Democrats are disappointed over President-elect John F. Kennedy's inauguration plans. They thought they were going to the Inaugural Ball—but they aren't.

Aides to Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, blame it all on the Inaugural Committee.

As they explain it, the committee underestimated the number of people who wanted to come and was forced to cut back drastically when the error was discovered. By that time, Young had advised about 100 Ohioans—including some important campaign contributors—that they would get word soon from the Inaugural committee.

The word never came. Each senator and House member was permitted subsequently to allow only two couples to go to the Inaugural Ball for the new president.

In Young's case, because of the mixup, about 11 more Ohio couples were allowed to buy tickets to the ball. But that still left a lot of Ohioans pretty unhappy.

Just how this mixup came about isn't entirely clear. However, a girl over at the Inaugural Committee said the Republicans contributed mightily to the confusion.

She noted that before the election the executive director of the Inaugural Committee (a bipartisan affair) was James A. Blanchard, a Republican.

Blanchard ran the 1957 inauguration of President Eisenhower, and, as she put it, not many people came.

"That inauguration was kind of a bust," she said. The result was, she said, that Blanchard incorrectly assumed about the same number who attended that inaugural would come to Kennedy's or Nixon's.

"The Republicans had the upper hand and did things on the basis of the 1957 inauguration," she said. "After the Democrats won, it was totally different."

Soon Blanchard was replaced by a Democrat, Robert Burkhardt, and a lot of things were changed. It's going to be a mob scene—about 19,000 are expected at the three inaugural balls—but many more will have to stay home against their will.

Just to add to the snafu, a large block of engraved invitations intended solely as souvenirs were recently mailed out to a number of Ohioans.

This caused many of the disappointed ones to think—erroneously—that they were going to be coming to the ball after all.

Young is known to have told the disappointed ones: "I am disgusted, but I am deeply concerned over the situation."

Schweitzer Observes His 86th Birthday

LAMBARENE, Gabon (AP) — Dr. Albert Schweitzer today quietly observed his 86th birthday, interrupting work at his famed jungle hospital only long enough to open presents and read a sheaf of greetings.

The Nobel prize-winning medical missionary, philosopher and musician, brushed aside any fuss, and asked for only a quiet and intimate day with his staff and patients.

But his admirers in many parts of the world saw to it several weeks ago that the day would not be forgotten in this tropical outpost. Presents and greetings have flowed into Lambarene, and more are expected.

Among presents were those brought by a group of followers, mostly from America, who visited Schweitzer in late December and early January. One present was a battery-operated radio which will pick up stations around the world.

Schweitzer immediately turned on the radio to hear some music. Another gift was a finely tailored white suitcoat made in Chicago. Schweitzer likes to wear a white coat while playing the organ.

Also among his presents were cases of drugs for the hospital he founded in this equatorial region in 1913, two big sacks of apples unobtainable in Lambarene, and many books.

Among the recent group of visitors was Dr. Herbert M. Phillips of Chicago, president of the Albert Schweitzer Educational Foundation.

Mrs. Garron gave birth to twin boys on Feb. 12. Last Wednesday she gave birth to twin girls.

The Garrons also have another daughter, aged 3.

Garron is the manager of a Framingham taxi company.

FARM

Added Nitrogen Produces Dollars

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

Nitrogen fertilizers applied to soils low in nitrogen have produced economical corn yields Ohio State University tests have shown. They also have resulted in increases in the protein content of the corn, a factor especially important to livestock farmers feeding their own corn.

Each pound of protein produced in the corn crop is a pound of protein supplement that does not have to be purchased. The value of the protein in the corn grain, is worth the price of the cheapest supplement that can be purchased for a ruminant.

In an experiment conducted in Hancock County on a Miami-Crosby-Brookston soil association, 40 and 100 pounds per acre of nitrogen were applied. The phosphate and potash were constant at 40 pounds per acre each on all treatments. The yields above those plots receiving no nitrogen were 14 bushels per acre for the 40 pounds of nitrogen and 27 bushels per acre for the 100 pounds of nitrogen.

Figuring corn worth $1 a bushel and nitrogen fertilizer 15 cents a pound, this would be an increase of $8 profit above the cost of fertilizer from the 40-pound application of nitrogen and $12 for the 100-pound application.

This shows that it is profitable to fertilize corn when other management practices are in line. This is the point where we usually stop looking at the value of nitrogen fertilizer. But considering the value of nitrogen fertilization further, one notes the increase in percent of crude protein above the check plots was 0.5 per cent of the 40 pounds of nitrogen and 1.9 per cent for the 100 pound application.

IN POUNDS of crude protein above the check, this amounted to 50 pounds and 144 pounds per acre respectively for the 40 and 100 pound applications. With the crude protein in corn considered only 75 per cent digestible by ruminants, these figures should be adjusted to 38 pounds and 108 pounds per acre digestible protein.

This means that the value of the protein may be calculated at $3.38 for the 40 pound nitrogen application and $9.70 for the 100 pound application (figuring the value of protein at 9 cents a pound). Adding these figures to the $8 and $12 profit per acre for increased yields gives a total profit of $11.38 and $21.70 respectively for the 40 and 100 pound applications of nitrogen.

The value of the increased protein was figured at slightly more than one-half the cost of the fertilizer. The amount of protein produced varies, depending on the growing conditions and the hybrid used.

Homemaker News

By MRS. KOLEEN WRIGHT

What will 1961 bring for our family? This is a question many of us are asking at this time of year.

Several predictions have been made by the United States Department of Agriculture which should be of interest to you.

They say there are likely to be divergent price trends during the coming year among the various categories of goods and services which families (including farm families) buy. The largest share of the average family's expenditure is for food. Indications are that retail food prices will be no higher in 1961 than in 1960.

Apparel prices showed a slight advance during the past year, and are expected to remain at about the current level during the coming year.

Prices for services, which now represent an appreciable share of the average family's budget, have been increasing much more rapidly in recent years than have prices for commodities. From September, 1959, to September, 1960, prices for services increased on the average nearly three per cent as compared with about one per cent for commodities. Household operations services, gas and electricity are three per cent higher than a year ago. Medical care services are four per cent higher. There is no indication that this rate of price increase for services will level off in the coming year.

Many families planning to repair or modernize their homes, or build new homes, will likely find it easier to finance such work in the coming year. The Federal Housing Administration has cut the minimum downpayment required of a home buyer who obtains an FHA insured mortgage. The Farmers Home Administration has relaxed its regulations so that farmers who obtain a substantial proportion of their income from non-farm sources may now be able to qualify for loans to build a new home or repair or modernize an existing home. To qualify for such a loan in previous years the applicant had to obtain a substantial proportion of his income from farm sources.

Prices for new cars, as measured by the Consumer Price Index, customarily decline in the months following the introduction of the new models. The decline for the 1960 models has been greater than usual. The price popularity of compact cars has resulted in a substantial increase in production of domestic cars in the lower price ranges. Consumers have also benefited this year from substantial decline in used car prices and, in recent months, from lower prices for house hold appliances.

Although it now appears unlikely that 1961 prices for automobiles and household appliances will differ much from current levels, purchases of automobiles will benefit from the availability of lower priced models and price declines which have been recorded for other models.

May 1961 be a prosperous year for you!

Cost-Sharing Program Opens

Approval Needed Before Eligibility

J. Austin Dowden, office manager for the Pickaway Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, announced today that the 1961 program for Agricultural Conservation cost-sharing is now open.

This program includes the following practices which have been approved for Pickaway County in which farmers can receive cost-sharing:

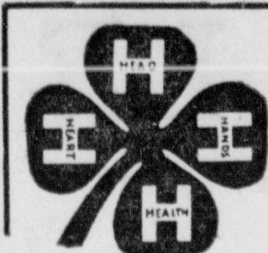

Establishment of permanent vegetative cover; application of lime; tree planting for forestry purposes; tree or shrub planting to prevent wind or water erosion.

Improvement of permanent vegetative cover; constructing ponds and reservoirs for livestock water as a means of protecting vegetative cover or to make practicable the utilization of the land for vegetative cover; installing pipelines for livestock water as a means of protecting vegetative cover.

Woodland improvement; sod waterways; initial establishment of permanent vegetation as protection against erosion; standard terraces, diversions, structure for gully prevention or control; Structures for protecting outlets and water channels, open drainage systems, tiling and green manure.

Prior approval of the county committee is required before an individual is eligible for cost-share, Dowden said. Persons interested in federal cost-sharing on the above mentioned practices are urged to make their applications at least 60 days before starting the practice at the local Pickaway ASC office.

Recognition for outstanding Junior Leaders from all over Ohio will be given at the 10th annual Junior Leader Honor Award Conference. The conference will be held March 3 and 4 at the Ohio State Fair Youth Center. This event is sponsored by the Ohio 4-H Club Foundation.

The purpose of the Junior Leader Honor Award recognition is: to promote recognition for demonstrated Junior Leadership and service; to use accumulated experiences of the members to help plan, promote and execute the 4-H club program; to provide further opportunity to develop leadership of the members; to motivate members to continue as Junior Leaders; and to extend the period of active interest and service in the Extension program.

Every year each county may nominate one or more Junior Leaders as candidates to receive this award. The total number of nominations allowed depends upon the number of 4-H members in the county. One nominee is allowed for each 500 4-H members enrolled or fractions thereof.

Thus, Pickaway County can nominate two Junior Leaders to receive the award this year. The nominees from Pickaway County are selected by the 4-H Council awards committee. Application for the nominees are then sent to the state 4-H club department for approval and announcement. This year's recipients will be announced at a later date.

Several requirements must be met in order for a member to be eligible to receive the Junior Leader Honor Award. They are as follows: the member must be at least 17 years of age and not over 21 years of age on Jan. 1, 1961, must have completed four years of 4-H club work showing high standards of project work, must have completed two years of Junior Leadership activities, must have demonstrated leadership ability, and must have a record of unselfish participation in club and/or community, county, state, and national activities.

This year's conference program will be March 3, at 7 p. m. The conference will terminate at 3 p. m. March 4.

All Junior Leader Honor Award winners since 1952 are eligible to attend the conference free of charge. Wives or husbands of former winners are welcome to attend, but must attend at their own expense.

The Junior Leadership Club will hold its monthly meeting at 8 p. m. Thursday, at Darby School. The Darby Junior Leaders are hosts for the meeting. The program for the evening will consist of a business meeting, election of officers for the new year, and recreation. All Junior Leaders in Pickaway County are urged to attend.

Annual Dairy Association Meeting Slated for Thursday

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

The annual meeting of the Pickaway County Dairy Improvement Assn. will be held Thursday. All Pickaway County dairy farmers are invited to participate in this program.

The annual meeting this year will be in the farm of a dairy tour, a noon luncheon, and on afternoon program.

The tour will begin at 9:30 a. m. at the Mary and Herman Hines farm on the Bell's Station-Fairfield Road, just off Route 188 in Walnut Twp. The Hines' have a new loading shed, 16x50 foot silo, and an auger feeding system.

The tour will then move to the N. D. Bell and Son farm on Circleville-Groveport Road. The Bell's have a new eight cow herringbone, divided parlor, and bulk tank, pipeline milker.

The third stop will be at the Thaddeus Cromley farm on Campbell Road. Cromley milks in a six cow stanchion parlor, with a pipeline and bulk tank.

The Harold Hines farm will be the sight of the last tour stop. Hines milks with a standard elevated milking parlor, and uses a new auger feeding bunk.

THE NOON luncheon will be served at Hedges Chapel Church. Reservations for this luncheon should be made at the County Extension Office.

The afternoon program will include the annual meeting business and an election of directors from Deer Creek, Monroe, Perry, Scioto, and Washington Twp. Annual reports will be made by Nelson Stevens, the artificial inseminator, and John Dixon, DHIA supervisor.

Richard Kellogg, manager of the Central Ohio Breeding Assn., will make a presentation on "Microscopes and Telescopes".

Charles Blackman will lead a discussion entitled "Let's Look at This Dairy Business".

100 Years Ago

this week in the U.S.A.

The flag of the United States of America has been fired upon by South Carolina batteries!

As dawn brought visibility to the blacked-out Charleston Harbor Wednesday (the 9th), a merchant vessel, the Star of the West carrying succor to the isolated garrison at Fort Sumter, received a shot across her bow. A huge American ensign was unfurled, yet a second shot indicated that the secessionists meant not to allow the ship any further advance up the channel.

The Star, nevertheless, continued toward Sumter, less than two miles away. However, batteries at Fort Moultrie soon had the Star in range, and the approach of a South Carolina steamer and armed schooner forced the Star and her cargo of 200 recruits to withdraw to open sea.

The Star had departed from New York on the 5th with her destination listed as New Orleans, via Havana. It appears that Major Anderson, commanding at Sumter, did not have instructions informing him of reinforcement, although a Columbia, S. C. newspaper published announcement on the 8th that ships were on the way.

Anderson refused to fire on the South Carolina batteries because of previous orders to act strictly on the defensive. Following the incident, Anderson sent two of his officers to Washington for further instructions.

IN THE Nation's capital several events have added to the anxiety of the New Year. On the 8th (Tuesday) Secretary of Interior, Jacob Thompson, resigned his post. The next day Philip Thomas, Secretary of Treasury, quit the cabinet. On Friday Buchanan announced the appointment of John A. Dix, of New York City to fill Thomas's job, and Department of Interior chief clerk Moses Kelly was named Acting Secretary.

In the House of Representatives, Tom Corwin, chairman of the Committee of 33 issued a report on the 14th that lists six propositions his committee has formed, though not unanimously.

The most important proposal appears to be the request for a joint resolution that would propose an amendment to the Constitution that would prevent a non-slave state from ever originating an amendment to prohibit slavery.

Arriving in Washington late this week was an "ambassador" from the State of South Carolina, Col. I. W. Hayne, and a Lt. Hall, representative of Major Anderson at Fort Sumter. It is reported that the two men carry a demand from the Governor of South Carolina for Fort Sumter.

Gov. Pickens issued a surrender demand to Major Anderson on the 11th. The demand was, of course, refused. Anderson told the party bearing the decree that if South Carolina wished to make a surrender demand to Washington, he would send along an officer to report on the condition of the fort.

Meanwhile more secession. The Mississippi convention, setting at Jackson, passed a secession ordinance on the 9th. In Florida, a secession ordinance was passed in Tallahassee on the 10th, and seizure of the U. S. Navy Yard and barracks at Pensacola was completed on the 12th.

Alabama followed the secession path on the 11th. It is rumored that the seceding states plan a joint convention to meet in Montgomery, Ala. before February 15.

Although the Florida state authorities seized the big Navy Yard at Pensacola, they were not able to occupy all the fortifications in the area. Acting under orders to protect government property, Lt. A. J. Stemmer removed his command of 81 men from Fort Barrancas to the more defensible Fort Pickens on Santa Rosa Island, commanding the harbor. The move was accomplished without incident on the morning of the 10th.

On the 12th, as the U. S. flag was being lowered over the Navy Yard, a similar ensign was unfurled over the north-west bastion of Fort Pickens, and the Federal ships Wyandotte and Supply flew extra flags.

Steubenville Loses $39,500 Lawsuit

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (AP)—A jury has awarded a verdict of $39,500 to the Sewer Construction Co., Inc., of Parkersburg, W. Va., against the city of Steubenville.

The company had asked for $65,000, claiming its contract for a sewer project in the north end of town was delayed by the city's failure to obtain easements. The company further claimed its equipment was forced to remain idle for a long period, resulting in higher wages for its employees.

The contract was awarded in April 1957 and the project was completed in June 1958.

Sinatra To Wear His Fancy Duds

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Frank Sinatra today uttered his first—and final—words about that publicized inauguration wardrobe designed by Don Loper. Frank says he likes the clothes and will wear them.

Some published reports quoted a spokesman for Sinatra as saying he was miffed at Loper for giving out details of the wardrobe. These reports also said Sinatra would not wear the clothes because he was angry.

Not so, said Frank. "If I hadn't liked the clothes, I would have told Don so when I picked them up. They are just what I ordered."

Cattle Population To Show Increase

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent, Agriculture

Following a two-year decline in 1956 and 1957, cattle numbers in the United States increased from 93 million 350 thousand head on January 1, 1958, to 101 million 500 thousand on January 1, 1960.

Although cattle and calf slaughter in 1960 has been about 10 and 4 per cent larger, respectively, than a year ago, cattle numbers will probably increase another three million head during the year. Our cattle population was estimated to be about 104½ million head on January 1, 1961.

The 1960 calf crop of 41,646,000 head was 600,000 larger than last year's crop. Most of the current increase in cow numbers is attributed to light culling and the retention of aged cows rather than to increase in the number of heifers added to the breeding herds.

As cattle numbers are increasing more rapidly than our population, the industry is entering a period of declining cattle prices which will eventually call for heavy culling and liquidation of breeding stock. All cattle price will average lower than in 1960, but price declines are not expected to be large enough to cause heavy liquidation of breeding herds in 1961. Cattle numbers are, therefore, expected to increase but at a slower rate for at least another year.

The number of cattle being fed was reported to be 9 per cent larger than a year earlier on January 1, 8 per cent larger than the year before on April 1, and 4 per cent larger on July 1 than on the same date in 1959.

SLAUGHTERINGS of cattle and calves are expected to be larger than those of a year ago throughout the remaining months of the current year.

Barring unexpected deterioration in range conditions, moderate increase in marketings of grass cattle are expected this fall. Prices of all grades of cattle will be lower than those of a year earlier. Prices of the better grades of fed cattle, however, are expected to decline less than prices paid for lower grade cattle in the months ahead. Wider margins between grades of slaughter cattle, lower feed costs, and less costly feeder cattle indicate that prospects for profit are somewhat more favorable than a year ago.

Feeder cattle have been moving into feeding areas at prices that have averaged from four to six dollars below those of a year earlier. Supplies of feed grains are expected to be as large as the record supplies of a year ago. Feed grain prices are about 5 per cent lower than those of a year ago, and they are expected to remain at lower levels throughout the coming feeding season.

Despite lower feed prices, lower supplies of feeder cattle, and lower prices for replacement cattle the early demand for and shipments of stockers and feeders have been no larger than in the early weeks of 1959 cattle purchasing season. It is apparent that many cattle feeders are anticipating further declines of feeder cattle prices and prefer to "wait and see".

Although further decline in feeder cattle prices is a possibility, it should be pointed out that range conditions are favorable in the more important producing areas and that most replacement cattle are in relatively strong hands. It, therefore, appears quite probable that most of the seasonal decline in feeder cattle prices has already occurred and that any further reduction is likely to be relatively small.

Unless range conditions deteriorate rapidly and far more than is now expected, most of any advantage in form of a small decline in price could be offset by increases in the weight of cattle purchased later in the season.

CONSUMER demand for beef is expected to continue strong. Feeder cattle prices have declined more than fat cattle prices in relation to those of last year. Feed prices will undoubtedly continue lower than those of the previous year.

Although fat cattle prices will average lower than in 1960, they are expected to be relatively stable and to compare more favorably with the prices paid for feeder cattle a year ago. Margins on feed fed to cattle during the 1960-61 feeding season are expected to be about equal to the long term average.

Although large profits are not in prospect, the odds are more favorable than a year ago for those who buy cautiously, produce gains economically, and skillfully market high quality cattle during the first half of the coming cattle feeding season.

Liquor Department Plans Expansion

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Department of Liquor Control will open eight new liquor stores and remodel 24 others in the next six months.

The State Controlling Board has approved the request of Liquor Director Richard C. Crouch for a transfer of $43,850 in department funds. That amount added to $50,000 already available will finance the work.

By April 1, new self-serve stores will be opened in Newark and Rocky River. In the second quarter of the year, the department will open similar stores in Parma, Dayton, Cuyahoga Falls, Sandusky and two in Toledo.

The state liquor monopoly now has 286 stores and 55 agencies.

Students Listen To Real Authority

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A group of high school students visiting Municipal Judge Cecil E. Edwards' courtroom last Monday listened intently to the speaker. "Take that first drink and you're in trouble," said Lonnie Fairchild. "The bottle will make you do anything."

There were no students in Judge Edwards' Court Thursday, but on his 193rd appearance for drunkenness. His words "that bottle.... will get you into trouble" had a sequel: A fine of $40 and costs for drunkenness, $300 and costs and 90 days in jail for theft of radio while drunk, and $40 and costs from a suspended drunk sentence last Monday.

2 Cleveland Area Girls 'Punch Happy' on New Job

CLEVELAND (AP) — Punch happy?

You might say so. But two sisters got that way from punching Braille lessons—not boxing. The technical term, of course, is transcribing.

Neither girl is blind. Daughters of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Enkler of Willowick, Wilma and Gloria (Mrs. Paul Wolff, Wickliffe) are learning Braille by correspondence in preparation for volunteer work for the Board of Missions for the Blind, Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod.

"This is something you can throw your heart into because it makes you happy knowing you are making the blind happy by extending their limited world," Gloria said.

After learning Braille and becoming certified, volunteers are expected to give 10 hours a week transcribing Sunday school papers for blind children and devotional booklets, stories, magazines, hymns and books for blind persons all over the country.

Studying Braille is comparable to learning a combination of shorthand and a foreign language at the same time, Wilma explained. Their teachers are volunteers and live in Rockford, Ill.

Gloria, who began the course first, has been studying for a year and is now taking her final examination for certification.

In addition to learning a special alphabet, short forms for prefaces and suffixes, abbreviations, combination and phrases, the student must also learn new punctuation marks, signs for capital letters and italicized words explaining the copy to the blind reader. Brief forms are especially important because of the bulkiness of Braille literature.

Gloria became interested in the plan after reading about a tuberculosis patient in Colorado who transcribed 160 books. Volunteers also lacquer, bind and prepare copy for mailing. The U. S. government allows franking privileges for Braille material, but volunteers pay postage rates until they are certified.

There are 291 certified transcribers in the United States and Canada and 271 students taking the Braille course through this missions project.

The mother of a 2½-year-old daughter, Gloria finds transcribing a perfect way to help a church if you are tied down at home. She also has kept up a 19-year correspondence with a pen-pal in England.

Wilma, who is employed in an accounting office, also sings in the Cleveland Lutheran A. Capella Choir and plays a violin with the Cleveland Lutheran Orchestra.

Miamisburg Loss Near $250,000

MIAMISBURG, Ohio (AP) — A blaze which destroyed the nearly new W. T. Grant store at the Plaza Shopping Center caused damage estimated at nearly a half-million dollars.

Fire Chief Richard Brough said the cause of Thursday's early morning fire probably never will be determined. He explained that the intense heat, which "twisted two 18-inch steel beams in the store ceiling like corkscrews," erased any evidence of the fire's source.

R. Stanley Dybvig, Dayton real estate man who owns an interest in the shopping center, estimated damage to the Grand building at $225,000. Grant officials said the loss of store fixtures and stock was around $210,000.

Seeking Victory in Defeat

When Senator Jacob Javits attempted to lessen the influence of Senator Barry Goldwater in the process of reorganizing the Republican Party after the campaign, Goldwater came out on top because the Republican Party is conservative. Goldwater's position is not dubious; he makes himself clear on all public questions. Like most conservatives, he is pugnacious.

In an address to the Republican National Committee, Goldwater spoke not so much of the Republican defeat, but of the astonishing victories in this campaign. As one looks at these victories, which gained the Republicans two seats in the Senate and 21 seats in the House, Senator Goldwater listed these facts:

"Topping the list is the charming lady from Maine, Margaret Chase Smith, whose constituents returned her to office by a whopping 61.6 per cent. Next is the stalwart Senator from New Hampshire Styles Bridges, who received 60.3 per cent. Senator John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky took third place honors with 59.2 per cent, narrowly topping the performance of Nebraska's Carl Curtis who won the 58.5 per cent of the votes cast.

"Next in line come three men who did equally well, with 56.3 per cent records. They were Senator Lverett Staltonstall of Massachusetts, Senator Clifford Case of New Jersey, and the late Keith Thomson of Wyoming, whose tragic, untimely death shortly after the election constitutes the one sad note in this report."

Unfortunately, these figures do not provide a pattern for the Republican Party. Whereas Styles Bridges and Karl Mundt might be called conservatives, Margaret Chase Smith and Clifford Case might be regarded as liberals, and Senators Cooper and Saltonstall as middle-of-the-roads.

Thus, out of these statistics one cannot reach a conclusion, certainly not the conclusion that the Republican Party is prepared to follow the conservatism of Senator Barry Goldwater. On the other hand, the fact that the Senate Republican Conference elected Senator Goldwater, Chairman of the Senate Campaign Committee, which makes him one of the three top leaders of his party, the other two being Richard Nixon and Thurston Morton — this fact is not to be ignored.

Goldwater did not ignore it. He said:

"... I do believe that there is danger in constant shifting of party position. I believe we should be consistent; that we should take a position and stand on it, fighting for what we believe and know to be the right and best course for the American people."

The Eisenhower Administration was really without party conception. During its first term, President Eisenhower deliberately sought to put himself above party — to be a head of state rather than a chief executive. He organized the White House on that basis with Sherman Adams as major domo. It did not work because it was alien to the American concept of the Presidency. Our President is a political party leader who is expected to help build his party in Congress, so that he gets proper support and not to have to depend on the opposition party as Eisenhower depended upon Lyndon Johnson.

President Kennedy, while he is appointing some Republicans and some no-party men to office, is a Democrat and will operate as a Democrat. Although the Democrats are in power, they have weak spots, particularly in the South and in New York State. In New York, the Democrats are dependent upon the Liberal Party. It was a close call because the Liberal Party is as likely as not to throw its strength to either party, being bound to neither.

Professional Democrats in New York are, on the whole, antagonistic to the Liberal Party and to the Reformers, led by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt. The stronger leadership of the party in New York City, led by Representative Charles Buckley, will have nothing to do with them. Carmine DeSapio is not in as strong a position to resist them, but he is antagonistic to them. Unto the Liberal Party and to the healed before 1962, the Republicans feel that they have a chance in this metropolitan area. But the leadership of Governor Nelson Rockefeller is insufficient to hold the Republicans together.

This much is clear about the Republican Party in the year of an unexpected defeat. All the professionals admit that the Presidential campaign was badly managed; that the Party actually in some places shows real vigor. But there seems to be common agreement that competition with Kennedy as to who is most liberal will do no good.

TWO SCOTCHMEN, sauntering along a beach at low tide, spotted an oyster simultaneously. Both grabbed for it and claimed it, and the dispute became so hot they decided to leave the decision to a third man on the beach.

He suggested that each claimant tell his story, and while they were orating, he opened the shell, extracted the oyster, with a grunt of satisfaction, then handed each of them a shell.

"The Court," he declared, "awards you each a shell. The oyster will cover the costs."

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower paints a cheery picture of America. But study groups President-elect John F. Kennedy created to advise him see a lot more needed than Eisenhower accomplished.

The outgoing president, in his last State of the Union message to Congress Thursday, could have offered programs. But incoming Kennedy will do that.

So Eisenhower reviewed America as he sees it and the work of his administration. No doubt he hopes it will also be the verdict of history. He seemed satisfied. At times he spoke glowingly.

The following is the contrast between the views of Eisenhower and the Kennedy groups

DEFENSE—As usual, Eisenhower defended his handling of this, predicted "the near future will hold such wonders as the orbital flight of an astronaut."

But the Kennedy groups think Russia will beat us with a man into outer space and said this country is lagging behind the Soviets in ballistic missiles and outer space exploration.

THE ECONOMY—in this field Eisenhower was both sunny and glum. He praised America's economic progress, admitted "there is little room for complacency," said the economy is operating at "high levels" but was concerned about unemployment.

But he didn't mention recession. Many economists say the country is in one. The Kennedy group suggested the new president act quickly with a batch of emergency measures to get recovery fast.

Kennedy has put top-priority on still another study group's ideas for helping both unemployment and depressed areas.

HOUSING — Eisenhower seemed to feel pretty good about this field. He said "more houses have been built during the past eight years—over nine million—than during any previous eight years in history."

But Kennedy's study group suggested broad programs to meet housing needs of low-income families, of the elderly, of farmers, of college students, plus broad spending for city planning.

Last December The Associated Press reported: "Housing disappointed in 1960. Demand fell, costs rose, money grew scarce, and fewer homes went up."

EDUCATION — Eisenhower recounted, with apparent pride, what his administration has done in this field. But the Kennedy study group on education thought far more is needed. It proposed a vast program of federal aid to schools, amounting to nearly $2.5 billion yearly.

"Millions of children, particularly in certain rural areas and in the great cities are deprived of an opportunity to develop talents that are needed both for society and for their own lives," it said.

This group called its proposals the minimum for accomplishing the needed "significant uplift" in American education.

SOCIAL SECURITY AND THE AGED—Eisenhower pointed to progress made in Social Security—the broadening of its coverage and new benefits added—and said this about the aged: "New legislation provides for better medical care for the needy aged. The administration recommended a major expansion of this effort."

But the administration's recommendations, while they would provide some help for some, were opposed to linking Social Security to medical care for the aged. This is what Kennedy wants to do.

His study group, not at all satisfied with the Social Security program as it exists, roped a broad expansion of Social Security, public assistance, unemployment pay, medical education.

Ohio Jobless Fund To Last 28 Months

CLEVELAND (AP)—Donald B. Leach, administrator of the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, estimates Ohio could meet its payments to jobless workers for another 28 months.

The estimate, he said Thursday, is based on the conditions that no extended benefits are given those who have used up all their benefits and still are unemployed, and there is no change in the tax on employers that provides the money for the payments.

Leach said his estimate follows calculations by William Papier, the bureau's statistician, to the effect that:

"If collections continue to average $10 million a month and benefits $25 million, the fund will last 22 months. An automatic tax increase, now clearly in prospect because of the trend of reserves, would raise the average rate of tax on employers in 1962 by about a third. As a result payments would be extended to approximately 28 months."

The automatic tax increase raises all rates by five per cent if, on Sept. 1 of any year, the balance in the fund is less than the amount paid out in benefits in the preceding 24-month period.

11-County Meet To Ponder SW Ohio Regional Airport

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—An 11-county meeting to consider proposals to establish a southwestern Ohio regional airport will be held at Middletown March 18.

A planning committee for the proposed airport set the time and place at a meeting here Thursday.

The proposal, first made by Mayor William Patterson of Dayton, is for the establishment of an airport which would serve cities in an area including Dayton, Cincinnati, Hamilton, Middletown, Lebanon and Wilmington.

Representatives of government and business will be asked at the Middletown meeting to finance a full scale engineering study of the proposal. A preliminary survey already has been made with a report that such an airport is needed.

Wilmington city officials have proposed that the Clinton County Air Force Base be used for such an airport after the Strategic Air Command withdraws most of its forces from the base.

200 STARVE DAILY—A Belgian nun feeds a starving Congolese youngster in Kasai Province, where some 200 die daily of starvation. The hospital is sheltering about 3,000 in its 700-bed accommodations. The children are part of estimated 300,000 refugees from Baluba-Lulusa warfare.

Designer Reveals Details On New First Lady's Fashions

NEW YORK (AP)—Designer Oleg Cassini has declassified three top-secret sketches of the new First Lady's fashion for inaugural and spring activities.

The suave, mustachioed couturier Thursday gave the press descriptions and sketches of a gown and a daytime ensemble of a dress and coat he designed for Mrs. John F. Kennedy. He also included two sketches of proposed trends.

Still under wraps are details of the gown she will wear to the Jan. 19 gala.

"My desire is to protect Mrs. Kennedy in her great moment," Cassini told more than 200 fashion writers from the nation's newspapers jamming his news conference. "It's not every day you become First Lady."

In his sketches Cassini, Paris-born, Italy-reared Russian defender of the American look—feminine, form-fitting clothes—seemed to have tempered his figure-hugging fashion convictions to Mrs. Kennedy's apparent liking for more relaxed lines.

The gown, for example, he described as a mere covering of pristine white satin—one fluid line from shoulder to floor, unbroken except for the beguiling bow at the waistline. A completely natural look with the dignity and fineness that can only be achieved by simplicity of design.

The dress sketch showed a one-piece soft wool in fawn, a subdued beige. It's gently shaped to the figure with a natural shoulder and simple rounded neckline. Matching silk serge at the waistline and cuffs is the only accent.

The dress is to be worn with a soft-finish two-button wool coat in matching fawn color, with a semi-fitted shape, simple rounded neckline and an applied band from neck to hem. It has a detachable collar of Russian sable. The coat is lined with the same fawn silk serge accenting the dress.

Cassini, 47, obviously enjoying himself hugely, staged the news conference during the time he was allotted for displaying his spring collection of fashions for the 36th National Press Week gathering. He showed no clothes at all, giving over the entire period to a discussion of his Kennedy appointment and a question and answer session.

Church of Christ

In Eph. 5 verse 27 Paul speaks of the church as a glorious institution. The church is made up of men and women who have obeyed the gospel. In Acts 18 verse 8 the Bible says that many of the Corinthians, hearing, believed and were baptized.

In 1 Corinthians 1 verse 2 Paul addresses a letter to the church of Corinth; again in Acts chapter 2 Peter preached, the people heard and asked what to do and were told to repent and be baptized for the remission of sins. Verse 47 says, "The Lord added to the church such as were being saved".

The question is, "Why is the church glorious? and what will cause the glory to depart?"

Bible Study will commence at 9:45 a. m. followed by Worship at 10:30 a. m.

Delbert McKenzie is presiding minister.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL - ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

It Comes Naturally!

DEAR ABBY: I am almost 18 and have only been kissed by one boy. He said I didn't know how to kiss and offered to teach me. But after two lessons he gave up and I haven't seen him since. I've dated two other boys since that time and managed to get out of kissing them because I was afraid
I would make a fool of myself.
Can you tell me how to learn how to kiss without showing my ignorance?

ASHAMED OF IGNORANCE
DEAR ASHAMED: Yours is a case of inexperience—not ignorance; and it's nothing to be ashamed of. In a demonstration of sincere affection, a kiss is as natural as breathing. When you meet the right person, you won't need any lessons.

DEAR ABBY: I don't like to brag, but I am a very good cook when people leave me alone. However, when we have company and they stay in the kitchen and talk to me, I can't concentrate on what I am doing and nothing comes out right. I often burn food, things boil over, and I forget what I put in. If it's company I especially want to impress, I break out with a stinging rash and my nose runs hot water. I've been trying to overcome this for 25 years. Can you help me?

MRS. FUMBLEBRAIN
DEAR "MRS. FUMBLE-BRAIN" Be "cute" about it. Post a "KEEP OUT" sign on your kitchen door when you are preparing the meal. And have your husband stand guard. Your guests may think you are a little "fempermental"—but that's better than a poor meal, a stinging rash and a runny nose.

DEAR ABBY: I am a mother, almost 60 years old. I have one son who is married and has a child.

I have a house all bought and paid for, and some savings which, by rights, I should leave to my son. But the way things are in my family, I want to make out a will leaving everything to my grandchild. If I left anything to my son, his wife would get it, and that's the last person I want to get anything of mine. She has broken my heart so many times.

Since she feels that I am in her way while I'm alive, I don't want her to enjoy any of my money after I am dead. How do I go about this?

THINKING OUT LOUD
DEAR THINKING: It's a simple matter of expressing your wishes to an attorney.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "ON THE FENCE": Don't be afraid to take a big step. You can't cross a stream in two small jumps.

come from behind in the third quarter with a bold effort to snag a victory. But it wasn't their night.

As in the loss at Franklin Heights Tuesday night, the Tigers couldn't hold onto a lead in the late stages. Greenfield went ahead with about three minutes left in the fourth period and held onto it with all its might.

The loss knocked some of the glitter off a splendid shooting performance by Circleville's Bruce Barnes who wowed fans with his six straight buckets in the second quarter. The only starting senior for CHS finished the evening with 24 points, his high for the season.

THE lead changed hands no less than five times in the second half and the score was deadlocked on three occasions in the last two quarters.

Circleville trailed until the third quarter was half over. The Tigers then zoomed into a 39-38 lead on Sam Weller's sixth straight point.

The contest by that time reached fever pitch as McClain rolled back to knot the count, 47-47, as the third period buzzer sounded. Early in the fourth canto, the score was tied twice and the lead changed hands two times. Luther Johnson pulled the Tigers even at 54-54 on a foul shot, but it marked the end of the locals' valiant bid.

Larry Maynard proceeded to hit a bucket from under and Roger Grooms added a basket and a foul shot to spoil Circleville hopes. The best CHS could do was a long shot by Jimmie Wellington in the final seconds.

The contest was a bitter struggle all the way and had many interesting sidelights. Grooms of Greenfield, one of the SCO's leading scorers, blazed away for 29 points, but his performance did not outshine the dazzling display by Barnes.

The CHS jump shot specialist, playing his first year of high school basketball, cracked many of his buckets from long range and often times with two men trying to stop him. He got 18 in the first half, with 12 of them coming in succession in the second canto.

CIRCLEVILLE suffered a damaging blow early when Weller was charged with his third personal in the first quarter. From that point on he was forced to the careful side and finished the test with nine points.

Wellington again provided the Tigers with some neat outside shooting as he smacked five long one-handers to go along with a lay-up for 12 points. Four of his archers came in the third period to help Circleville catch up and take a temporary lead.

Greenfield snatched an early advantage as Grooms' collected his team's first seven points and 10 for the quarter to give McClain a 14-12 advantage. Barnes paced Circleville for the period with six tallies.

McClain upped its lead a little in the second quarter to take a 33-27 halftime margin. This time it was Lee Morehead doing the damage along with Grooms. Nevertheless, Barnes' performance was the outstanding show of the period.

Morehead finished as Greenfield's second high scorer with 19 points. The majority of his buckets was fired from the sides and from underneath.

Both teams counted good percentages from the field. Circleville hit 25 of 60 shots for 41.6 per cent and Greenfield, 26 of 57 for 45.6 per cent.

CIRCLEVILLE again suffered at the foul line, collecting six of 16 attempts. McClain fared better, although hitting only 10 of 26.

The CHS reserve squad surged back to take a 51-40 victory. Kitten ace Freddie Moore, back in action following a siege of illness, sparked the win with 17 points.

Bob Waple came through with 13 and some steady rebounding. Another reliable performer was Dave Hannahs with 12. Dave Dennis and Dave Bass, two freshmen, also turned in good showings for the Kittens.

The Greenfield reserve squad was paced by Tom Doyle's 18 points. Warfield had nine.

Circleville's next game is scheduled here Friday when Franklin Heights comes for a return engagement. The Falcons took a close 45-43 verdict from the Tigers Tuesday night.

Mat Team Gets 21-16 Victory Over Arlington

RUDD DOES IT AGAIN — Big Rupert Rudd of Circleville's wrestling team is only seconds away from a pin here. The action came in Circleville's 26-17 win yesterday over Upper Arlington. Watching the proceedings carefully is official Ted Georgeff.

Circleville's undefeated wrestling squad added another victory notch to its belt yesterday with a 26-17 verdict over Upper Arlington.

The rugged CHS matmen earned the win on four pins and two decisions. The locals beat down a late rally by the visitors to chalk the victory.

Big Rupert Rudd's pin in 46 seconds of the first period of the heavyweight battle told the story. Circleville went into this bout with a narrow 21-17 advantage.

Rudd quickly stopped all Upper Arlington hopes of victory by taking his opponent to the canvas and applying the pin in short order.

CIRCLEVILLE's first pin came when Bob Owens held his man to the mat in the 122-pound class.

The next CHS pin came in the 135 - pound division with Ray Winner doing the honors in the second period.

Phil Wing of Circleville then ran the margin to 21-6 by smothering his man in the 147 - pound battle. Grabbing the two decisions for the Tigers were Tim Mogan in the 114 class and Dave Troutman in the 129 category.

Arlington made its best showing of the day with consecutive decisions in the 156 and 167 classes, then chalked a pin in the 177 struggle.

McKee got the pin for Arlington and decisions were by Hartman, Rapp, Greer and Baas.

THE pin against Circleville was only the second in 55 individual bouts this season.

The Arlington win gives Circleville a perfect 5-0 mark in regular matches, plus a win in a practice meet with Linden McKinley.

Ray Taylor made his first start for Circleville yesterday in the 167 pound class and turned in a solid performance. He was decided 2-0 on period points.

Next match for the Tigers is next Saturday at Grandview. The battle starts at 3 p. m.

165 pounds — Hartman (UA) decisioned Cook (C); 114 pounds — Mogan (C) decisioned Henderson (UA).

122 pounds — Owens (C) pinned Hooker (UA); 129 pounds — Troutman (C) decisioned Walker (UA).

135 pounds — Winner (C) pinned Rapp (UA); 140 pounds — Greer (UA) decisioned McDowell (C).

147 pounds — Wing (C) pinned Orlan-da (UA); 156 pounds — Baas (UA) decisioned Taylor (C); 177 pounds — McKee (UA) pinned Cain (C).

Heavyweight — Rudd (C) pinned Leonard (UA).

John Berberich, 6-foot-8 senior is the tallest man on the UCLA basketball squad.

Shawnee Bows To Laurelville In 54-51 Test

Laurelville grabbed its eighth win in 14 starts last night with a 54-51 decision over visiting Shawnee.

The Wildcats roared behind three players who hit in double figures. Bob Febes paced the Cats with 17 points, 13 of them in the first half. Larry Unger cashed in on some rebound shots for 14 and Max Young collected 11.

Downs of Shawnee was the game's top scorer with 28. Harub smacked 14.

Laurelville started the ball rolling with a 15-10 lead in the first quarter and maintained a 30-27 edge at intermission. The winners upped the count to 44-37 at the end of the third period.

The evening's outcome saw the Wildcats take a double decision by way of a 33-26 win in the reserve tilt.

Bulldog Press Drops Unioto

Centralia threw the Ross County cage league into a tighter race last night with a 73-65 win over invading Unioto, one of the loop's leading teams.

The Bulldogs took advantage of a hard pressing defense and 26 points by Monte Hinton to hand the visitors a thumping. Gary McNeal's 19 points also was a factor in addition to 19 rebounds by Tom Haynes.

Dave Shoults, a 6-3 cager, was to tall for his Bulldog defenders as he led Unioto with 20 points. Dailey added 16.

Paced by Hinton's 57 per cent average from the field, the Bulldogs overcame a 49-45 Unioto third quarter lead to whip in 29 points in the finale. The pressing defense did most of the damage.

Only 1,600 Tickets Released To Public for Cage Tourney

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A scramble by the general public for Ohio high school state basketball tournament tickets was assured to W. J. McConnell, scholastic commissioner, said today only 1,600 "season" ducats would be available to the public for the March 24-25 classic in Ohio State's 13,500-seat arena.

McConnell mailed ticket application forms today to 3,184 head coaches, school administrators, tournament managers, etc., who are on the preferred list.

He also set up rigid rules, six of them, for the general public. After declaring that only season tickets, good for all four sessions, would be sold, McConnell said mail orders only would be honored.

The price as been boosted, for the first time in about 15 years. The 1961 tickets will cost $8 for the full route as compared with $6 last year—a hike of 50 cents per session.

Two Class A games will be played the afternoon of Friday March 24, and two Class AA contests that evening. The Class A finals are Saturday afternoon, March 25, with the Class AA finals at night.

Here are the six rules for the general public as laid down by McConnell:

1. No consideration will be given orders postmarked prior to Feb. 11.
 2. No consideration will be given orders for more than two (2) season tickets in any one envelope.
 3. No consideration will be given orders for anything other than season tickets.
 4. The envelope must be addressed to "Ohio High School Athletic Association, 4161 N. High St., Columbus 14, Ohio," and be plainly marked on the address side "Season Ticket Order," and include payment in full for tickets ordered at the rate of $8 for each season ticket, and also a self-addressed, four-cent stamped return envelope.
 5. The OHSAA reserves the right to check the mailing of all ticket orders and act on its finding.
 6. Ticket orders drawn which do not follow the above instructions will not be filled.
- McConnell said only checks or money order—no cash—would be accepted, and that they should be made payable to the Ohio High School Athletic Association.
- The drawing for the lucky winners will be made at the association's office at 2 p.m., Wednesday, Feb. 22. McConnell said the demand would be many times greater than the supply.

Mantle, Maris, Skowron Reject First Yank Offers

NEW YORK (AP)—It's too early to tag a "holdout" label on an unsatisfied player but the fact is that at least three top ranking members of the New York Yankees have rejected first offers and demanded more sizeable increases.

The three are Mickey Mantle, Roger Maris and Bill Skowron. Each has been given a raise over last year's salary. Each believes the raise is insufficient.

One who accepted a "slight increase" was Yogi Berra, who signed Thursday for just over $50,000, a sum he received last year for hitting .276 in 120 games. The only other Yankee to come to terms is reserve infielder Joe DeMaestri, who signed his 1961 contract two weeks ago.

"All the contracts have been mailed out," said General Manager Roy Hamey. "There are no cuts for anybody. A few have been offered the same salaries but they are in the minority."

"We won the pennant and I don't see any reason why anybody particularly deserves a cut."

Mantle has been offered a boost of $5,000 to $65,000. It is believed he is holding out for a restoration of the full cut of $10,000 he took last year. Mickey batted under .300 but he led the league with 40 home runs, was outstanding in the World Series and finished second in the American League's Most Valuable Player poll.

Maris, reportedly is seeking a 100 per cent increase of his $20,000 salary. He has been offered $27,500. The strapping outfielder led the league in runs batted in last year and was voted the AL's most valuable performer.

Skowron, who received $22,500 last year, also is seeking $40,000 for next season. He, too, has been offered a $5,000 raise. He enjoyed his best year in 1960, leading the club with a .309 batting average, 91 runs batted in and 26 home runs.

Searls Dearington, 19, a junior from Danielson, Conn., will captain the 1961 Columbia University cross-country team. He's a native of Providence, R. I.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official wather bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Dry weather continued during the night with fair skies in the north and cloudy skies in the south. Temperatures overnight ranged from the 30's in the north to the low 40's extreme south.

Ohio weather calls for cloudy skies as a weak cold front moves into the northern portion and a low pressure center from Georgia passes to the east of the state.

This will result in generally cooler weather for today and Sunday with possibility of a few snow flurries in the northern counties to night and Sunday with occasional light rain this afternoon and to night in the southern portion. Dry weather is likely through the central portion.

Early morning temperatures throughout the state were Findlay 31, Cleveland 37, Columbus 39 and Cincinnati 42.

Kennedy Comedy Skit Is Scrapped

NEW YORK (AP) — A scheduled comedy skit on president-elect John F. Kennedy and his wife, Jacqueline, has been scrapped by the National Broadcasting Co.

An eight-minute sketch had been written for comedian Art Carney's NBC-TV show next Tuesday, three days before Kennedy's inauguration as the nation's 35th president.

Carney was to have played the role of Kennedy and actress Lee Remick the part of Mrs. Kennedy. The setting was to have been the White House after Kennedy's inauguration.

An ABC spokesman said Thursday "We thought it would have been improper to have performers actually portraying the president and his wife. Our decision was based on a matter of good taste."

The remains of an earthen fort, a mystery to archeologists, is in Missouri's Van Meter State Park.

The Light Side

R. L. Brehmer Sr., editor of the Rotary Club newsletter, Thursday was accused of pervaporation in last week's edition, regarding some squirrel antics along the Ohio River.

He was "sentenced" to the back row of the dining room to sit between Russ Palm and Dr. E. L. Montgomery. He refused to go. Judge William Radcliff called the sentence unconstitutional because it was "cruel and unusual punishment".

New March of Dimes Workers Make Hospital Visit Today

Members and workers for the Pickaway County Chapter, New March of Dimes, left at 1 p. m. today for a visit at Children's Hospital, Columbus.

The local persons were special guests for a guided tour of the hospital. The trip served to give them a first hand glance of how the New March of Dimes aids in the constant fight against birth defects, arthritis and polio.

The Pickaway County Chapter currently is in the midst of doing its part in conducting the campaign for 1961. The drive will continue through January.

One of the first moves of the local group was to distribute coin containers in this area last week. The handing out project was handled by Boy Scouts here.

THE volunteer Scouts placed containers in stores, supermarkets, restaurants, offices and other appropriate locations in an effort to round up all loose change in the county to be used for the fight against crippling diseases.

Another vital step in the campaign here is the annual Mothers' March, scheduled January 31. The local Chapter has scheduled a meeting for 7:30 p. m. January 25 at the First Methodist Church to lay final plans for this event.

The Mothers' March, this year will be handled by Mrs. Betty Koch and her committee of workers. David Crawford, campaign director, said more volunteer workers still are needed for the county drive.

25 Applicants Seek Sheriff's Job

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Butler County Commissioners say 25 applications for the post of sheriff came in by the deadline, but they are mum about identifying them.

The deadline was Friday afternoon and a spokesman said the commission is not expected to make a decision until Tuesday or later.

Sheriff's deputies last week urged that Mrs. Pauline Pell, widow of the sheriff, be named to the post.

Petitions were filed with the commission Friday supporting Mrs. Pell and Burton Baggard, now a first sergeant in the sheriff's office, for the job.

Pell had just started his second year term as sheriff when he died Jan. 3 following ulcer surgery.

Second Test Of Integration Due in Georgia

ATHENS, Ga. (AP) — Students and faculty members at the University of Georgia today anxiously awaited a second test of integration in an atmosphere of mingled apprehension and reassurance.

The grim memory of recent rioting was offset to a degree by a promise from Gov. Ernest Vandiver that he would provide any forces necessary to prevent a new outbreak of violence.

At the same time the governor warned that law enforcement officials of great experience had informed him that "tinder-box conditions exist."

In turn university officials said they would act swiftly to prevent any demonstrations when Charlayne A. Hunter, 18, and Hamilton E. Holmes, 19, return to the campus of this oldest chartered state university in the country.

The two Atlanta Negro students were ordered readmitted by a federal judge in Macon who sternly warned that no action must be taken to expel them.

Judge W. A. Bootle restrained all state officials having any connection with the school or university officials themselves from again suspending or dismissing them.

Bootle ruled Friday that the university's "order of withdrawal or suspension is hereby terminated by 8 a. m., Jan. 16." The two students were suspended early Thursday morning in the wake of a campus riot finally broken up by authorities using tear gas and fire hoses.

Scarlet Fever Closes School
The cause of the outbreak of scarlet fever, in which the first reported case came Monday, was not determined, Clyde T. Strohmeier, superintendent of schools at Hopedale said.

The village of about 1,000 population seven miles northeast of here has a three-building school unit for all 12 grades in a campus-type arrangement. Five of the scarlet fever cases were in the fourth grade, Strohmeier said, and the others were scattered.

Pilot Who Scouted A-Bomb Target Is Ruled as Insane

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Claude R. Eatherly, a pilot who took part in the only use of the atomic bomb as a war weapon, is back in a hospital by court order for mental treatments.

Acting on a request by his brother, a County Court jury adjudged the decorated World War II flier insane Thursday. Its verdict capped a series of incidents landing him in jail the past eight years.

Eatherly, now 41, flew a reconnaissance plane just ahead of the 1945 A-bomb strikes at Hiroshima and Nagasaki in Japan. Psychiatrists say that as a result of the raids, the tall and affable Texan developed a nagging guilt complex, although he did not actually drop the bombs.

He once told Dr. O. P. Constantine at the Veterans Administration hospital here he held himself to blame for killing 100,000 people in Hiroshima.

Eatherly, from Van Alstyne, Tex., left the Air Force in 1947 as a major with an honorable discharge. The year before he was a pilot observer of Bikini A-bomb tests in the Pacific.

The insanity verdict forces Eatherly, a voluntary patient in recent months, to remain at the VA Hospital here in central Texas.

James Eatherly, a brother whose home also is at Van Alstyne, had asked the court last September to commit the wartime hero for "the protection of himself as well as others."

The ex-flier has entered the Waco hospital nine times—all of his own volition—since 1950, when he attempted suicide.

Eatherly received the Distinguished Flying Cross for his

Soviets 'Perfect' Substitute Nerves

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
From the Soviet Union comes word of experiments in which metal electrodes are being substituted for severed lengths of nerves in dogs' legs.

Dogs in the experiments run and jump quite normally, says a Soviet writer describing research of Prof. Boris Ognev. Prof. Ognev has performed 36 operations on 30 dogs so far, removing up to two-inch lengths of the sciatic nerve, he said. Further details of how the "substitute" nerve actually works were not supplied in a Tass broadcast quoting from Nedelya, the weekly supplement of the Soviet newspaper Izvestia.
